In the last meeting held Wed., January 20th, the committee showed favor to 'platform two' after evaluating the listed alternatives.

"Conditional support of 'Boycott Colorado' in principle (that is, a public awareness through economic restraint) but limited to an adopted (Ground Zero) severity and impact level"

Consolidated View Points To-Date

- The scope of an economic boycott will be limited to all visitor conventions incorporating a business, scientific, civic, social or religious theme.
- The geographic reach of the economic boycott will be subject to an area not less nor greater than the State of Colorado.
- The economic boycott must publicly underscore a Human Right's agenda rather than one of economic hardship to its citizenry.
- Boycott exceptions for 'sympathetic organizations' must meet steering committee approval depending upon the visiting organization's forthright display of public allegiance to the by-laws adopted by Ground Zero.
- Consideration is required for economic sanctioning of pro-active supportive businesses and organizations. This will become a routine activity with regard for their risk in public reprisal (Citizens Project has referred this task to Ground Zero in its town meetings).
- Consideration is required for an activity to routinely expose businesses and organizations in support of amendment 2. This activity must regard the probability of counter exposure of supportive businesses and organizations for the sole purpose of public reprisal (Citizens Project has referred this task to Ground Zero in its town meetings).
